Claim Objections

Claims 24,26 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 24 line 1, it appears that "of" should be canceled. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22,23,25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van Mill (5,590,721).

Van Mill discloses a seed preparation implement including a mainframe, a plurality of plow shanks and a plurality of rotating discs of a disc gang, with the disc gang angle being adjustable through a range of at least 3 degrees. Given the structure of Van Mill, the claimed method steps would inherently performed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 24, 26-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Mill (5,590,720) in view of Domries (5,628,373).

Art Unit: 3671

Van Mill discloses an implement as described previously, but lacks the disc gang angle adjustment comprising a pin which slides along an unsegmented guide.

Domries teaches that it is known in the art for a disc gang angle adjustment to include a pin 168 that slides along an unsegmented guide.

Therefore, Van Mill discloses the claimed invention except that the disc gang angle adjustment lacks a pin that slides along an unsegmented guide. Domries shows that a pin that slides along an unsegmented guide is an equivalent structure known in the art. Therefore, because these two adjustment means were art-recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to substitute the pin in slide adjustment means of Domries for the adjustment means of Van Mill. Concerning the claimed method steps, the combination renders the claimed method steps obvious since such would be a logical manner of using the combination.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
